

Geo.X ECS Newsletter May 2019

Dear Geo.X Early Career Community,

This newsletter is intended to keep all of you up-to-date regarding our recent activities.

Last week Dr. Christopher Kyba (GFZ) provided a Scientific Talking training session for the Early Career Scientists of Geo.X. Within several exercises we tested and improved our stage performance and reflected on what is needed to give a good talk to a scientific audience but also to the public. We like to thank Chris very much for this enormously enjoyable workshop.

What's next? The Early Career Scientists of Geo.X are invited to attend the following events:

1. We have organized a workshop on Applying for a DFG grant, which will take place on Friday, 14th of June 2019 at FU GeoCampus Lankwitz from 2pm (duration: 2-3 h). Dr. Dirk Wenske who is a third party funding expert specialized in geosciences at FU Berlin is presenting. The workshop will focus on the DFG "Eigene Stelle" funding scheme.
 - The number of participants is restricted! Thus, you have to register by sending an email to Jacob.hardt@fu-berlin
 - <https://www.geo-x.net/aktuelles/aktuelles-uebersicht/details/news/upcoming-workshop-on-applying-for-a-dfg-grant/>
2. We are organizing a workshop on Basic statistics which will take place together with our next get-together and BBQ on Friday, 12th July at FU GeoCampus Lankwitz.

Best regards!

Melanie