

Central Asia Climate and Water Research Workshop

11th December 2024

The workshop aims to bring together scientists working on various Central Asian topics to boost collaboration and grow ideas for future cooperation. The one-day workshop will feature sessions with scientific talks covering two broad areas: (1) climate change and water security, and (2) human security, including socio-economic aspects. These will be followed by PICO-style presentations on various projects and networking activities. A more detailed program and registration link will be provided soon.

When: 11th December 2024 | 9 am–6 pm

Where: GFZ, Telegrafenberg, Building H, 14473 Potsdam

Contact person: Milena Latinovic

Organizing partners:

- German Research Centre for Geosciences (GFZ): Milena Latinovic, Valeria Selyuzhenok, Astrid Krahn and Abror Gafurov
- Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research (PIK): Iulii Didovets and Stefanie Wesch
- Humboldt University to Berlin: Tobias Sauter and Phillip Schuster
- University of Potsdam: Bodo Bookhagen

Note: If you would like to contribute to the sessions with a scientific talk or the PICO session about Central Asia-related projects, please contact milena@gfz-potsdam.de